Thursday, April 13, 1871. Preliminary Debate in the Senate on British Columbia.

A preliminary discussion took place in the Senate on March 21st, respecting the manner in which that branch of Parliament would take up the question of J. P. DAVIES & CO. the Admission of British Columbia Senator Miller from Nova Scotia raised the question as to the course that would be passed in debate. The chief point raised was whether the Senate would take up the resolutions for the admission of British Columbia at the same time as the Lower House, -Senator Campbell, the Post Master General, objected to dealing with them at the same time as the House of Commons for the reason that if the Senate rejected the terms, and the Commons adopted them, or if the Commons rejected them and the Senate dopted them, that the relations of the two Honses would be very unsatis-factory, and therefore he advised the Senate to wait for our action of the Lower House. Senator de St. Just from Reviere Ouvelle, Quebec, regarded the resolutions for the admission as a quasitreaty, but thought that the Senste ought not to be a mere echo of the other House; in fact he preferred that the Senate should not wait for the action of the other House. Senator Sanford, of Sherbrooke, Quebec, seemed disposed to stand up for the dignity of the Senate, to originate measures independent of the other House; but he thought the policy of the Government was only to bring the question before the Senate after it had been worn threadbare in the Lower House which would leave the Senste powerless for influence in the country. Senator Allan, Toronto, regretted that the Sen-ate could not take up the resolutions at the same time as the Lower House. Senator Ryan, Montreal, held that the course proposed by the Post-Master General was the correct one, but he required more information as to the revenue of British Columbia. He, is reported to have said that British Columbia would only return to the Dominion $254,000 annually, but he was sadiy a tray when he said that our Customs yielded $300,000 and our Excise $540,000. He only made a mistake of putting our excise at $500,000 too much. No wonder be required returns. Senator Botsford, N. B. thought the Senate might deal with the resolu tions to alter them. Senator Dickey, Nova Scotis, held that the resolutions were like a treaty, and the Senate could o ly reject or adopt them. Senator McPherson, of Toronto, said that if there up simultaneously in both Houses. Senator Campbell said that the Government deemed it advisable that the resolutious should be heard in the other branch first: for he would not say that "the measure involves taxation, but it will involve, when carried out, a very serious burthen on the country , and before the House is in position to pronounce on it, it is desirable to know the opinion of the other branch.

"Senator Sanborn said, it does seem to me a monstrous proposition to ask this House to accept such terms as British Columbia, which does not enjoy responsible government at all, may choose to offer. If the hon, member will look over these papers be will see that Governor Musgrave sends a petition from certain persons in Victoria, asking for some alterations in the terms. He tells them that the people of the colony have the best terms they can expect-in fact, better ones than they ought to have; but, nevertheless, he will send the memorial in hope of getting still more. Now, if we could change the scheme, and give British Columbia more, could we not also give less. I have no wish to discuss the less. I have no wish to discuss the question on so narrow a basis as seems allowable under the conditions laid down Mirrow, 1 washstand and Towel Horse, by the Government. As respects the hon. gentleman near me (Hon. Mr. Ryan), I must say he showed us very sofs, etc. clearly the dengers of annexing British LUM! pect of any of us being called upon too frequently "to ventilate our vocabulary," judging by what has been done during this session."

Notice.

DURING MY TEMPORARY ABSENCE from the Colony, Mr. Thomas Thoubald is authorized to collect monies and to transact other business on

"Senator Hazen, of New Brunswick said the proposition before us is extremely simple. British Columbia offers to come into this Confederation on cer ain con-ditions; you may call them a treaty or bond as you like. The Government must ask Parliament to assent to the terms by a joint address from both Houses. What follows then? Suppose we adopt the address. The bond is made. Suppose we reject it. We tell British Columbia she must submit a different proposition. The Government have made this bargain Costa Rica Coffee, but we cannot agree to it. Suppose both Houses agree, what then? An address goes to the Home Government asking that the Queen's proclamation be issued annexing British Columbia to the Confederation. In the meantime a Bill Syrup, must pass the House of Commens to Rice, &c. pay the large sums of money asked for under the terms. Therefore, if we pass the address, there must be also a Bill CLOTHING, from the House of Commons. So far as the terms are concerned, I cannot see BOOTS & SHOES, how British Columbia has "the cheek" if that is a parliamentary expression [laughter] to ask so much. I never saw a more extraordinary position in my life. I think we should leave the gentlemen who passed Confederation to assume the whole responsibility of this transaction. Senator Wilmot, New Brunewick said I am quite prepared to assume any responsibility so far as Confederation is concerned, but at the same time, I think ne should have more information before us

The discussion then closed, the Senate agreeing with the course suggested by the Government. It is very evident that it has required very excellent gen-eralship to carry the terms through both
